

Sinclair Broadcasting's decision to force their stations to air an anti-Kerry documentary days before the election illustrates perfectly why we need to strengthen media ownership rules.

Sinclair uses our airwaves free of charge and they should be serving us, the public. But the corporation serves its own ends and democracy dies.

As people read less and less, video becomes the way they learn things about the world. We had better make sure that real information, in all its glorious diversity, is what comes through on this medium.

Thank you.